Aspects in Europe.

European affairs are just now exciting more than usual interest. There are serious and threatening appearances in Italy, and the relations of France and Austria are regarded as anything but harmonious. There is increasing agitation at Milan, Genoa and Modena—the people, long writhing under the Austrian yoke, being well-nigh ready for open rebellion—and the Austrian home government, to meet the emergency, having dispatched thirty thousand additional troops to that quarter. The Sardinian government is also vigorously preparing for war.

What is to be the final result of these demonstrations, cannot as yet be fully determined, but the London press is confident there must be war—and very possibly a war that may involve many nations and the most serious consequences. Some remark of Louis Napoleon to the Austrian Minister at Paris, on New Year's day, importing that the relations of the two governments were not so amicable as could be wished, has been interpreted to mean that there was a really hostile state of feeling on both sides—a feeling that might easily be developed into a furious array of bristling steel, powder and cannon. The consequent effect on the stock and money markets in Europe was quite marked, and the British journals are filled with warlike speculations. The French press exhibits a milder and more cautious tone; but on this latter fact nothing can be safely predicated, as all the world knows there is no freedom of the press in France.

But what particular object is supposed to be attainable, on the part of Louis Napoleon, as a stimulus to a war with Austria? Some object there must be—else the French tyrant is a fool as well as a knave. Indeed, every knave is a partial fool, to begin with—else he would never be a knave, for is not "honesty the best policy?"—and will not the truly wise be sure to perceive so obvious a fact, and be equally sure to act in accordance with their perceptions? It is believed by many that Louis Napoleon has looked with a wishful eye on Italy, and that he means to drive out the Austrians and take possession himself. Indeed, some of the English papers do not hesitate to ascribe the present threatening aspects in that country, to the instigation of the secret emissaries of the French "emperor."

A SCRAM FOR LOVERS OF MOLASSES.

We copy the following from a long and interesting article entitled "Rambles in Surinam":
We went to the boiling house, and saw the molasses dipped out of the cistern and put into barrels. The molasses that runs from the sugar barrels is conducted by a gutter into the cistern, which is underground, and swarms with roaches and rats, many of which are found dead in the molasses, by which they are preserved from putrefaction. I could not help thinking that this country would be an Ellysium for Chinamen, for they might feast here on their favorite dish (rats) abundantly, and molasses-cured rats into the bargain. I do not know if the molasses which is imported into this country is used for anything else besides distilling rum. It is certainly not fit for table use, for besides the above-mentioned abominations, it is handled by the negroes in such a filthy manner, that a description of it will disgust everybody with the name. The molasses is dipped out of the cistern with large copper spoons, to which are attached long handles, but when the majority is removed, those spoons cannot be employed any more, on account of the sugar which has settled at or near the bottom, imparting a great toughness to the molasses. Some negroes have to get down into it, dipping it out with large gourds, and it reaches often over their knees. Cleanliness is not to be observed, and their feet and legs are often covered with figgers and other sores. If our delicate ladies and gentlemen had an idea of the manner in which our imported molasses were handled, they would surely abstain from the use of them. I once saw a dog fall into a copper in which cane juice was boiling intensely; he was nearly dead when the negroes succeeded in getting him out. It happens sometimes that a negro who sits on this molasses work into which the coppers are imbedded, slips into the foaming syrup, while dozing, and is boiled to death instantly. In neither case is the syrup thrown away, for it will granulate all the same, and nobody is the wiser for it.

By a vigorous movement yesterday, Mr. Van Zandt got all the Equity Power Bills, and Supreme Court bills, and Charles T. Hazard's petition into the hands of the special committee on the Hazard petitions, of which he is chairman. The purpose is, we presume, to present a report at an early day, and to take such action as shall learn the Supreme Court that the Assembly means to insist upon its rights.—Proc. Post 27th.

LOCAL.

MARINE AFFAIRS.

The U. S. Revenue Cutter Washington.

This vessel, whose arrival we have already noticed, has been detained in our harbor by calm weather since the completion of the repairs to her pumps—for which purpose she put in—much, as we understand, to the regret of her commander and officers, who, although not exactly relishing the prospects of a winter's buffeting on our coast, obliged to keep at sea while others may run in for a harbor, still feel a pride in achieving diligently and faithfully the duties they are called upon to perform. Even the old craft herself, as she lies at anchor with her chain "short" and sails hoisted, ready for a start, chafes at her moor like a betrothed Block Island lover over-anxious lest he should be chided much for his long delay.

The Cutter, we learn, was for some time in dock in New York, being caulked and furnished with new sails and rigging, and her commander, Capt. Hunter, had just reported her ready for service, meaning the ordinary Revenue duties in and near the harbor, when she was unexpectedly ordered off on a winter's cruise "from Nantucket Shoals to Cape May, for the relief of distressed vessels."

Of course that order involved some material alterations in her arrangements; additional stores and supplies had to be taken on board and the vessel placed under a "wintering," which was done by piling down her fore-topmast, yards and sail, and landing her long pivot gun, weighing, with its carriage, some six thousand pounds, taking on board a brass six-pounder as a signal gun (which we heard fired Wednesday night as a recall for a boat).

At that time, Captain Hunter was temporarily detached and Lieut. Murden placed in command, leaving but two Lieuts. as watch officers. A number we think quite insufficient for all the duties involving, as certainly none could be spared were the cutter called upon to aid in that respect a distressed vessel.

The cutter passed out by Sandy Hook on the morning of the 20th inst., and standing out southeast some sixty miles, bore away on the 21st before a fresh southerly breeze, which soon increased to a gale, when it was discovered that much water was taken below decks from defects in the leading pipes of the pumps. The leaks were stopped as far as practicable at the time. Next morning, being off Block Island, and the weather being still unsettled, the commander concluded to put in here to repair damages, and sail was made accordingly, not having fallen in with a single vessel since leaving Sandy Hook, though in the direct track of vessels bound either way. Arriving at a late hour on Saturday, nothing could be done until Monday, when Mr. N. M. Chance was called upon, and with two of his workmen, was employed until Tuesday evening, before the pumps were placed in order. It was at first supposed that a few hours would suffice for repairs, and in consequence, so anxious was Lieut. Murden to get to sea again, that even on Sunday the crew were employed doing some necessary work on the sails, hoping to get to sea the next day. Since then, the wind being too high to ensure a sufficient offing from our rock-bound coast, the crew have been busily employed setting up rigging and cleansing ship, taking advantage of weather which may not occur again this season. As we write, the Cutter remains at anchor with sails loosed, mainsail set, and hammock and clothes lines up. Yet from the present calm there is not much prospect of her getting to sea before bad weather sets in.

Lieut. Murden, who now commands the "Washington," was for several years attached to the Cutter "Jackson," on this station, since when he has seen much active service at the South and on the Pacific Coast. For the past year he has been attached to the "Washington" as 1st Lieutenant. The Washington has a crew of 28 men, all told. Her officers add to the quality of good seamanship that of perfect gentlemen. P. S. The W. was working out of the harbor last night at sundown.

The loud report which startled so many of our quiet citizens Wednesday night about 10 o'clock, proceeded from the U. S. Revenue cutter Washington, at anchor in the outer harbor. The effect produced, was to wake the slumbering echoes of the night, and set people to "wondering." The concussion was so great as to rattle the glass in many houses in the northern section of the city. It certainly cannot be said that the Washington has given a good report of herself during her stay here.—The calm weather of Wednesday and yesterday detained her, with other vessels, in port.

The weather for two days past has been remarkably calm for the season of the year, a state of things decidedly unfavorable for navigation, except by steam.

Vessels that sailed from here yesterday morning made about two miles in four hours.

HERCULES LECTURES.—Please bear in mind that George Howerton, Esq., lectures before Hercules Engine Company and their friends this evening. (See advertisement.) We have no doubt but those who attend will enjoy a rich treat.

THE NEW FIRM, WILLIAM NEWTON & CO.—It will be seen, by advertisement in another column, that there has been a change in the late house of Newton Brothers, the old firm being succeeded by that of William Newton & Co. By this change, the junior partner of the late firm now comes to the head of the business, and Mr. THOMAS PITMAN NEWTON, son of the late Capt. Simon Newton, Jr., a gentleman highly respected during his life time, becomes junior partner in the new firm. This young gentleman has been trained to the profession, and on attaining his majority, instead of leaving his native city to seek employment elsewhere, has become associated with his uncle as above.

With William Newton, Esq., our citizens are well acquainted, and with pleasure have rewarded again and again his public spirit and the many acts of his generous nature. Combining as it does, energy, kindness, and prompt fidelity to every interest of the trading community, we not only wish them success, but we see not why the new firm should not fully sustain the reputation of the late firm of Newton Brothers.

As the senior partner, Gen. E. F. Newton, retires from active business life, we trust that in very many respects his energy will be devoted to the general prosperity of our community. Our best wishes for his health and prosperity attend him.

LECTURE THIS EVENING.—We would call attention to the advertisement of the lecture at Masonic Hall this evening, by Mrs. Anna M. Henderson. Mrs. H., it will be remembered, lectured in this city about two years since, in the Representative Chamber of the State House, and at Aquidneck Hall, both of which places were crowded, so that a large number were obliged to leave, unable to get seats. We are informed that Mrs. Henderson is one of the best trance speakers in this country.

Proposals for a new Ferry Company.

It is in contemplation to organize a company for the purpose of ferrying foot-passengers across the canals in Thames Street. Of course, the active and most enterprising merchants and business men of Newport will fully sustain such a needed and important project.

The necessary capital being divided into shares of five dollars, will be subscribed by those who have long felt the need of such a conveyance: and the small charge of a few cents per head, will, it is confidently expected, give the shareholders a dividend of 50 or 60 per cent. on their money.

It is proposed to begin by placing a substantial boat on the ford at the head of Swinburne's Wharf, and as soon as the capital increases sufficiently, to extend the accommodation to other points on Thames and Marlborough Streets. The profits will doubtless be immense, notwithstanding the expense of providing lanterns on moonlight evenings until the moon shall rise.

Subscriptions received, and shares sold, at No. 999 Narrowest St., Mutual Improvement Office.

(Signed) SANDALS.
P. S. One of the advantages accruing from this enterprise will be, that the business of ferrying will give an easy and lucrative occupation to the unemployed lads who now congregate at the corners of the streets.

Personal.

"S," writing to The N. Y. Times from Washington, says:

"There are abundant rumors afloat to the effect that the President is likely to lead to the hymeneal altar an accomplished and estimable widow lady of Georgia. Perhaps this account is for the especial care and elegance of our bachelor President's dress. It is a matter of frequent remark, that Mr. Buchanan, in his handsome brown frock coat, white vest and cravat, and patent leather pumps, is one of the most elegantly dressed young men in the capital."

The trial of Dr. Daily, President of the Indiana University, charged with drunkenness and lewdness, is still in progress. The proceedings are private. The Ecclesiastical Court is composed of the Rev. Mr. Gillet, President; the Rev. Messrs. Stalland, Mason, Richards, Williams and Reed—all ministers of the Methodist Church. A large number of witnesses have been sworn. The Rev. Mr. Hester manages the prosecution on the part of the Church, and John S. Tarkington, an attorney-at-law, appears for Dr. Daily.

When Mr. Douglas shall fill out the term in the Senate, to which he has just been elected, he will have served twenty-two years in Congress—four in the House and eighteen in the Senate.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton, whose divorce trial and its attendant circumstances, produced so much excitement in Boston, nearly two years since, are still living in Lawrence, Kansas, apparently enjoying an enviable degree of domestic felicity and business success.

Saturday evening, as Mr. and Mrs. Julietta Francis, of Hartford, were about retiring for the night, Mrs. Francis said that she believed she should faint away, as everything looked dark; she lay down upon the bed, and died instantly.

The Springfield Republican reports the serious illness of Rev. Dr. Hitchcock, President of Amherst College. His first symptoms of lung fever had assumed a threatening form of congestion and inflammation, and a council of physicians had been held the results of which did not by any means relieve public anxiety.

Political.

The Washington correspondent of The U. S. Gazette writes that Mr. Buchanan has taken occasion very recently to say, in the most positive manner, that he would under no circumstances be a candidate for nomination at Charleston, and would not accept it if tendered to him. He was also candid enough to admit that he saw no prospect for a nomination even if he desired it.

Already fault is found with the new United States Senate Chamber. Mr. Hale, on Friday, plead for an extension of the room to the wall of the building on the end and one or both sides, so as to have the advantage of windows and fresh air. He also said that another defect had been developed, and that was, if "a shower heats, upon the roof we cannot heat. That is," said he, "the case at this moment. I think it is the most unhealthy, uncomfortable, ill-contrived place I was ever in in my life and my health is suffering daily from the atmosphere."

The Congressional Committee on amending the tariff, are nearly ready to report. It is believed that the rates will very nearly correspond with those of 1846, and that the duty on iron, of thirty per cent., will be re-established, as there is no opposition to that rate from any quarter. Liquor will pay a duty of fifty per cent. The Post Office Committee are reported to be in favor of abolishing the franking privilege, and also of allowing the Postmaster General to contract for conveying the United States foreign mails for the sea and inland postages.

Fires.

A fire at Sturgis, Michigan, Monday morning, destroyed $20,000 worth of property.

A fire occurred on South Street, in New York, Monday night, during which there was an explosion of gunpowder, severely injuring several persons, firemen and others, engaged in extinguishing the fire.

On Thursday evening, the dwelling-house of Mr. Alexander Leach of Colchester, Delaware Co., was destroyed by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Leach were from home at the time, but the children were all in the house. The fire originated from sparks falling upon the roof from the chimney. The children did all in their power to extinguish the flames, but to no purpose. One of the boys rescued another, who was in bed at the time, from the burning house, at the risk of his own life. There was no insurance.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 26.

Senate.

Mr. Bagley presented the petition of C. H. Sheldon and others for the restoration of Henry Northup of Richmond to his civil rights.

Mr. Thurston of Hopkinton presented the petition of William T. Salisbury of Providence to adopt child; which was received and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Thurston also presented the petitions of Benjamin H. Aldrich and others, and of Albert C. Jencks and others, for the discharge of recognizance; which were received and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Fames, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported back the petition of Albert and Letsey Rogers for the adoption of child; which was passed in concurrence.

Mr. James, from the same committee, reported an act in relation to the arrangement of a passage of public laws; which was read and passed.

The Secretary of State presented the fifth annual report on the registration of births, marriages, and deaths; which was read and ordered to be communicated to the House.

The Secretary of State also presented a report on the progress made by him towards the arrangement and preservation of the public archives; which was read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

The annual reports of the Providence and Worcester Railroad Company and of the Providence, Warren, and Bristol Railroad Company were ordered to be communicated to the House.

Mr. Fames, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported an act in amendment of Title XXV, chapter 107 of the Revised Statutes, "Of Special Courts of Common Pleas, and of proceedings therein;" which was read, passed to a second reading, and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

House of Representatives.

Mr. Hayes of Providence submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on Finance to inquire into the expediency of amending the law in relation to banks and institutions for savings as to require them to make annual instead of semi-annual returns, which was read and passed.

petition of Gideon Palmer for discharge from recognizance; which was received and referred to the Committee on Finance.

A resolution came down from the Senate referring to a joint select committee the annual report of the Commissioner of the Indian Trade; which was read, passed in concurrence, and Messrs. Sanford of Providence, Kenyon of Charlestown, and Jencks of Foster, were appointed the committee on the part of the House.

A communication from his Excellency the Governor, came down from the Senate in relation to the Warwick and Mount Vernon Banks; the Narragansett tribe of Indians; a communication from Jacob H. Martin of Providence, in relation to weights and measures, and other papers.

The communication was read, referred to the joint select committee on the Indian trade, and, on motion of Mr. Sheffield of Newport, ordered to be printed.

Mr. Saunders of Scituate presented the petition of the Rhode Island and Connecticut Turnpike Society for an amendment of charter; which was received and referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. Saunders of Scituate presented the semi-annual report of the State Auditor upon the financial condition of the State, which was read and ordered to be communicated to the Senate.

The act in relation to the equity powers of the Supreme Court, reported yesterday, was, on motion of Mr. Van Zandt of Newport, [Mr. Sanford of Providence in the chair] referred to the select committee of Charles T. and Mumford Hazard.

Mr. Van Zandt of Newport, pursuant to previous notice, introduced a bill defining the equity powers of the Supreme Court; which was read twice, referred to the special Hazard committee and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Van Zandt submitted the following resolution, which was read and referred to the special Hazard committee:

Resolved, That in assuming equity jurisdiction in the case of Robert H. Ives vs. C. T. Hazard, upon which a decree was issued by the Supreme Court at its September term, 1896, that said court exceeded its authority conferred upon it by the General Assembly, and that the equity proceedings in said case should be wholly amended, revoked and annulled, and the complainant left to seek his remedy before a court of common law, in conformity with the requirements of the constitution and laws of this State.

Mr. Van Zandt presented the petition of Hiram W. Elsbree for discharge from recognizance; which was received and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Howland of Providence presented the petition of George T. Downing of Newport for an appropriation to educate his children; which was received, read, and referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Howland of Providence, Newell of Smithfield, and Bush of Newport.

XXXVTH CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Jan. 25.

The Senate chose Mr. Fitzpatrick, Chairman pro tem, during the necessary absence of the Vice-President. Explanations and inquiries followed, respecting the reports of the Executive sessions, which found their way into the papers, and the important discovery was made of a room near the Senate Chamber, in which were two black cats, half-starved, and half-ferocious. The room, it was ascertained, was occupied by the Pacific Railroad Bill. Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, making a lengthened speech.

In the House, Mr. English reported adversely to the memorial of the Mount Vernon Association, asking for the use of the franking privilege—which memorial was finally tabled—and reported a bill abolishing the franking privilege altogether. The Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill was discussed in Committee. A salary of $7,500 was voted to Mr. Townsend Harris as Minister Resident at Japan. Some Southern Members chafed at the appropriation for the return and support of the cargoes of captured slaves. Several memorials asking for the establishment of new mail steamship lines were laid on the table.

DRY UP.

Occasionally a really valuable medicine is introduced, and as suddenly acquires a high reputation. Such a medicine is Dr. Wadsworth's Dry Up—which, by the way, we have no hesitation in pronouncing a sure cure for Catarrh in its worst form. The Dry Up has been before the public for a few months, and yet it is already meeting with a rapid sale, both at home and abroad. Lake Dr. Wadsworth's Vegetable Cream Syrup, it has taken its place among the great and valuable standard medicines of the present day. The genuine article is offered for sale by that eminent and experienced Druggist and Chemist, Mr. H. H. Burdington, 51 North Main street.—Prof Geo. Adv.

THE LIVER
INVIGORATOR.
 PREPARED BY DR. ANFORD.
Compounded Entirely from Gums.
 Is One of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It not only cleanses the Liver, but Liver remedy, riding first on the Liver to eject its morbid mater, then on the stomach and bowels to carry that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painfulness experienced in the operations of meme time that it purges it; and when tak

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without finchhead of hair, then read the following.

PROF. WOOD'S Hair Restorative.
We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which is back to its original color, gray hair—on the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth of the dufruff, itching, and all cutaneous diseases of the scalp. It is a natural fluid; and hence it is used as a dressing for the hair, will preserve its curl and keep it from falling to extreme old age in all its natural beauty. We call then to the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to it; and surely the young will not, as they er be without it. Its praise is upon tongues of thousands.

DEER RIVER, Conn., July 26, 1884.

My Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or seurf on my head more than a year, my hair began to come out, seurf and hair together. I saw in a Western paper about Wood's Hair Restorer, and I called at your store on both the 4th and 5th of last, and purchased a bottle of it, and I found to my satisfaction. It was good; it removed the seurf and the hair began to grow. It is now two or three inches
